Spurs
1909-1911

On 20th July 1909 I signed for Tottenham Hotspur. They say I'm the first black British professional out field player.
I got a signing-on fee. TEN POUNDS! Ten whole pounds – and a wage of FOUR POUNDS a week. This is the maximum – and they gave it to me!
While waiting for the football season to start I played cricket. It's a good way to spend a sunny day. The Spurs players took on the CHELSEA team, and I scored a good number of runs – and took a couple of wickets. We footballers like to play cricket in the off season.

Me in my Spurs kit. A proud day.

ME AGAINST MANCHESTER UNITED

For my first Spurs match I took over from Vivian Woodward, the Spurs star centre forward and Olympic champ, so I had to do well. It was Spurs' first ever Division One game after promotion. I played against MANCHESTER UNITED.
Final score: a 2-2 draw.

ME

BRISTOL
I had a terrible time at the BRISTOL match. Every time I got the ball, the crowd broke into jeers and insults about my skin colour. It was hard to carry on, but I made it to the end of the game.
A journalist wrote about the match in the LONDON FOOTBALL STAR.

The Star
Football and Colour Prejudice
. . .Tull is the Hotspurs' most brainy forward. Candidly, he has much to contend with on account of his colour. His tactics were absolutely beyond reproach, but he became the butt of the ignorant partisan . . . a section of the spectators made a cowardly attack upon him in language lower than Billingsgate . . . Let me tell the Bristol hooligans . . . that Tull is so clean in mind and method as to be a model for all white men who play football. Tull was the best forward on the field.

ME

COME ON YOU SPURS

I know I played well – everybody says so, and I tried not to react to all the insults that people threw at me. I kept my head . . . but somehow I'm losing heart. I try not to let it get to me, but it's hard.

Imagine me – a big star on a big ship going to Argentina!

Tottenham Hotspur F.C. have just asked me to sign for them. I wasn't sure about becoming a professional and taking money for playing sport. I think sport should build your character and make you stronger in body and mind. But in the end I did sign. It is better to be paid out in the open rather than pretending to be an amateur and taking money under the table, which some clubs have offered me. It is always best to be honest.

My football kit

Shirt – thick, warm and good for a cold day – but when it's wet it's like wearing a heavy, damp sponge.

Shorts – we call them "knickers". They are long and loose and they soak up the mud.

Boots – heavy leather with great big studs. They can really hurt if you get kicked.

Ball – made of thick leather with a big strong lace. It soaks up water and weight. When it's wet, it's like heading a brick. Ouch!

1. What were three things he needed in his football kit?
2. Why wasn't Walter Tull sure about becoming a professional footballer?
