

PRINCE OF WALES PRIMARY SCHOOL

NEWSLETTER 22nd July 2016

Listening Excellence Attitude Respect Negotiate Enjoy Responsible Support

Dear Parents, Governors and Friends,

Another year at Prince of Wales has reached its conclusion and all our achievements this year mirror the tremendous work that has been put in by all stakeholders, especially our staff – I give my heartfelt thanks to my colleagues.

I had hoped to share our OFSTED report before we broke up but that is now published in September.

One hint at what may be said about the quality of our outdoor learning environment comes in the form of us winning GOLD in the Enfield in Bloom competition. Well done to gardeners, Craig and Chris, for their hard work, to our Environment Team for their inspiring vision and all classes for making the most of this wonderful learning resource.

Unfortunately, we say good bye to colleagues and friends who are moving on to other exciting opportunities. However, we celebrate their achievements and thank them for their dedication to pupils' learning at our school:

Miss Russell – will continue her teaching career in a new school and take on the role of Curriculum Leader; the following staff are inspired to become teachers and start their training next term: Miss Begum, Miss Cetin, Mr James and Mr Roughan – we wish you every success and look forward to hearing from you when you qualify; Miss Kombou and Miss Ricketts will train to become educational psychologists and Miss Farrell will study speech and language therapy; Miss Pitta hopes to find her dream job as a teacher in Cyprus and Ms Ryde is moving to Scotland. We wish you all every success and happiness.

We also say farewell to our Year 6 pupils, who have done themselves proud in setting an even higher standard of learning behaviours, achievement and progress. I especially thank our Head Girl, Abigail, and Head Boy, Frederick, as well as our peer mentors for their support and initiatives. Remember to always be Gold Medal Learners. Good luck in secondary school.

Finally, I wish you all a lovely and relaxing summer.

Jan Bless

Our Value of the Month for July is Friendship

This year the children have begun to connect with the five British Values of Democracy, Tolerance, Mutual Respect, Individual Liberty and Rule of Law, to the school Values. The promotion of Values based education and British Values has developed into a positive school ethos, which is now embedded in all aspects of school life. Our values journey will continue in September with 'Friendship' in the first week followed by the Values: 'Thoughtfulness and Sensitivity'.

Start the next term well:

Purchase the appropriate school uniform from <http://www.uniform4kids.com/Category/POWSchoolwear> Please buy only fully black footwear – non branded black shoes.

LAST PAPER NEWSLETTER

REMEMBER that in order for you to read the newsletter from September, you will need to provide the school office with your email address as we will stop sending copies home to cope with a significant decrease in school funding.

Catching your dreams in a jar

The BFG film comes out today, so what an opportunity to see the film of the book that so many of our children have enjoyed.

An exciting piece of homework this holiday is to discuss your dreams and aspirations as a family and then capture your dream in a jar – any jar. Bring your jars into your new class and share them with your new friends and adults. They will be displayed throughout the school and prizes will be given for the best dreams. During the first week back the whole school will be immersed in the BFG.

For more information and inspiration visit:

Summer Homework

Don't lose your hard earned knowledge, understanding and skills. To encourage our pupils to complete tasks during the holidays, I will be awarding as many as 5 points towards their first HT award. They will be earned for successfully demonstrating that maths work, summer reading scheme and writing are completed. Also, check out our Glorumptious Dream in a Jar Project that we expect all pupils to complete on their return to school on 5th September.

Hi all,

I am delighted to feedback that the contributions for the Gam:ED 2016 Project have been collected and are now on a ship on their way to the school in The Gambia. I will be travelling out there to collect the shipment at the beginning of September.

Contributions were given by:
 Coombs Croft Library (Tottenham)
 Woodgreen Library (Woodgreen)
 Barnet Social Services.
 Friends and family
 POW, including staff and pupils.

I would like to once again say A MASSIVE THANK YOU to supporting the project and the school also wish me to tell you how grateful they are. The PRIZE that goes with the winning raffle ticket 190, so please present this to the office to collect a bag full of goodies. I will be sure to update you about the project upon my return in September.

Kind regards, Laura Ricketts
