

Judaism

Jews believe that there is only one God. They believe they have a special agreement with God called a covenant.

Abraham

Jews believe a man called Abraham was the first person to make a covenant with God.

Jewish people worship in their holy building the Synagogue.

This is inside the synagogue.

The holy book for Jewish people is the Torah.

There are rules in the Torah which Jews follow. The most important ones are the Ten Commandments.

The Torah is written in Hebrew which is read right to left like Arabic.

Judaism, Christianity and Islam share many of the same holy people.

A Jewish religious leader is called a Rabbi.

