

I can talk about the change in atmosphere and mood of my picture.

Get out your picture of your holiday scene from last week.

Cut your piece of artwork into as many pieces as you choose.

Then arrange and stick the pieces onto the another sheet of paper.

Arrange your pieces in any way that you want.

Write a sentence or two & link to how the image of your memory has changed and where it is Now using black pencil, crayon or paint, or even all three. Cover as much or as little of your collage as you want.

How does this makes you feel ?

If you can, share and evaluate each other's work or share with someone in your house.
