

I can respond to illustration

Look at next page of the book.

Write about how the colour black is used and what effect this has. What might it symbolise or represent?

The war began. Every day bad things started happening around us and soon there was nothing but chaos.

And one day the war took my father.

Since that day everything has become darker and my mother has become more and more worried.

Look carefully again at the previous page of the family in their embrace.

I can compare and talk about the different images of the same family.

Write some sentences on :

The similarities and differences between the two images of the same family.

What do the two family portraits suggest about the two different moments in the lives of this family?
