

This week we will be working on writing an ending to In The Dragon's Claws story .

I can story map an ending to In The Dragon's Claws.

Read part of In The Dragon's Claw story again, it's on the attachment .

Remember last week you looked at different out comes for each of the different characters. Use some of those notes to help you in today's lesson .

Remember we will be working on writing an ending to In The Dragon's Claws story .

So firstly , decide from which character's point of view you are going to write it from .

Jack , Thorgil , the dragon , the dragonets .

Before we do any writing use the grid story map to plan your ending to the story .

Think back to last week and include objects , plots , settings , vocabulary from the fantasy genre .

In your first box start where we left the story ..
.....Thoril and Jack in the circle of stones and the dragon is slowly falling asleep but the four dragonlets were watching the children.....

In The Dragon's Claws

Story Map the ending using pictures but include words if you want to.
