

Today, you are going to create a booklet, presenting the information you researched last lesson.

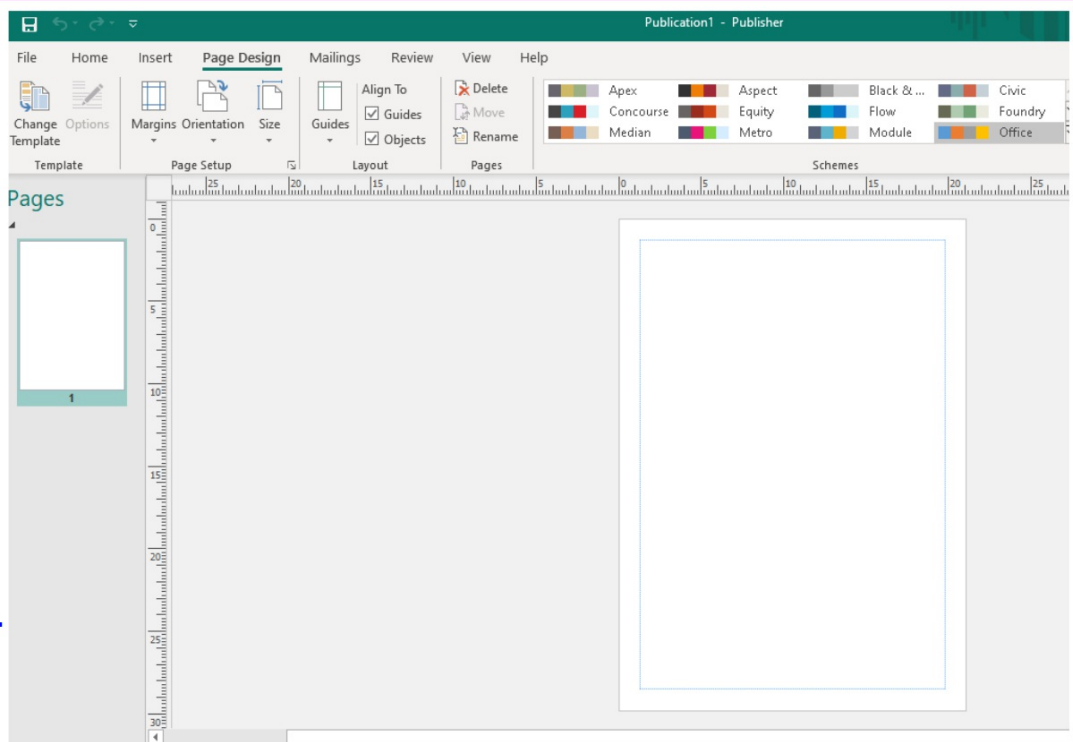

To do this, you are going to use Microsoft Publisher - remember you have used this before when you made your booklets for the Antarctica topic.

To begin, open publisher and open a new workbook.

Click on page design and choose how you want your booklet to look.

The first page should be your front cover. Think about what your title could be. You could also include pictures.

Use the following headings for each page of your booklet:

-Refugee facts

-Stories from refugees

-Facts and information

- Charities and ways to help

Don't forget to include pictures!

Don't forget to look back at these websites.
