Parakeet taking a break in our Year 2 garden

You won't have failed to notice the recent increase of parakeets in our area. They are obviously not indigenous but seem to thrive here and are quite successful in adapting to new areas. But what does that mean for the local birds? Do they eat the same food or nest in the same trees?

Every week or fortnight our children are posed questions through Philosophy for Children, this develops critical, creative, collaborative and caring thinking across our whole school. P4C supports social and emotional health and well-being, oracy, attainment and more.

The parakeet image can lead to a lot of fact finding and discussion such as: What makes a successful species? Is a successful species one that has lasted the longest unchanged, or that has evolved the most, or that has made most intellectual strides, or is the most numerous? Or does a successful species have to be able to live in balance with others? This may feel quite a cerebral discussion to be having with children, but their general knowledge of animals will play a big role in informing their opinions. If they are struggling to grasp the question, we can scaffold things with questions like these: Is a successful species one that has lasted the longest unchanged, or that has evolved the most, or that has made most intellectual strides, or is the most numerous? Or does a successful species have to be able to live in balance with others? Is the most successful species one that can speak? Or, as mere whippersnappers at perhaps 200,000 years old, is it too soon to judge our place in the hall of fame?

Further viewpoints can be found in these short and interesting articles: <https://blog.rsb.org.uk/measuring-species-success/> and <http://wonderopolis.org/wonder/what-is-the-oldest-species-living-today>

Let pupils apply their thinking to design the most 'successful' animal or species possible. It will be interesting to see how their own definitions of success inform what they create. (Developed from www.thephilosophyman.com).

Religious Education

This week in year 1 we have been looking at Christian beliefs and how people show gratitude at Harvest time.

We looked at things that make our world wonderful and created a collage of a wonderful world.

Children created a Harvest festival shopping list.

We made thank you cards and sent them to people that we were grateful to.

In Year 2 we have been extending our learning of Hinduism with the story of Sita and Rama. We have acted out the story and focused on the end of the story which is about the festival of Diwali.

Year 3 This week we have been learning about the festival of Divali which is celebrated by Hindus and Sikhs. This festival celebrates the triumph of good over evil and divas are lit to remind Hindus of the story of Rama and Sita.

Year 4 have been studying Judaism and the learning of Sukkot.

Year 5 have been learning more about Buddhism.

Year 6 explored why Jewish people eat sweet foods at Rosh Hashanah. We tried apple and honey and discussed why it tasted different before and after we dipped it in honey. We then discussed what this represents.

Hello all,

Due to the circumstances and not being able to hold coffee mornings or gatherings, I was wondering if any of you would like to take part in a virtual coffee morning. We could do this via teams and discuss the things you wish to talk about.

I was hoping to do this once a month and at each meeting we could decide on a topic for the next session. This would be a nice way to keep in touch with school and each other.

We can share news, ideas, recipes etc.

You will see me in the playground in the mornings from 8.30 – 9am or alternatively feel free to email me at. K.rees@princeofwales.enfield.sch.uk

Once I receive some names of those interested I will arrange a date and time with the link needed to join the event.

Look forward to hearing from you

Take care

Mrs Rees (Parent Support Advisor)

In year 2 we made diva lamps using clay. We also acted out the story of Rama and Sita. We talked about how the diva lamps link in with the story.
