5G taster session at Oasis Enfield - Computing

5G had a great time at Oasis last Thursday.

They used the Python programme to create their own story - using good literary tools such as use of pronouns, character actions and names.

They then had to import roles, names, actions and places of their story, making sure that they keyed in the instructions carefully.

FREE ESOL CLASSES

The courses are aimed at adults aged 19 plus – both male and female – with very little English at the moment (pre-entry or at most Entry level 1).

Potential learners will be assessed before starting a course.

Each learner will receive 30 hours of support in groups – 20 hours will be formal classroom time and 10 hours can be off-site social activity where learners apply their newly acquired skills in a real-world setting.

The learners need to be economically inactive (so not employed, self-employed or in receipt of work-based compensation, such as that provided through 'furlough' schemes). Ideally, they should be long standing residents. It is very much aimed at those who are unwilling or unable to join classes at the college, perhaps because of caring responsibilities, digital exclusion, lack of confidence or literacy in a first language.

Please come to the office and leave your contact details.
Mrs Rees will contact you.
