Platinum Jubilee Street Party at Prince of Wales Primary School

"This was the best day at school!" was a sentiment that echoed around the playground today by many children. It was certainly a very memorable day with our playground transformed into the perfect setting to celebrate The Queen's 70 year on the throne. Arranged like a street party they enjoyed their delicious sandwiches, cake, fruit and drinks. Afterwards each year group performed a dance from the decade they have been learning about. Artistic thrones were made by each class to highlight some of the significant cultural events since the 50s. Just a few photos of our celebratory day in today's edition with more to follow with video links after the half term. Have a lovely break and Jubilee Bank Holiday. Today we said goodbye to Mrs Milsom whom we wish the very best in her new job.

THE QUEEN'S PLATINUM JUBILEE

Community Cooking with Len 1 - parents' own recipes

Cindy's own kofte

- 500g of lamb mince meat
  - 4 large potatoes grated
  - 1 large onion grated
  - 2 eggs
  - Breadcrumbs (usually just grate some sliced of bread)
  - Finely chopped parsley
  - Salt
  - Pepper
1. Add uncooked lamb into a tray/large bowl then add the onions, parsley, eggs, breadcrumb, grated potato, salt and pepper
  2. Mix all ingredients together usually using your hands, like making dough you gave to need its although. Then leave in the fridge for about an hour to set.
  3. Once it has had time to chill then take small meat ball size balls and either roll in to the shape of a meat ball or kofta and shallow fry for about 10/12 min 5/6 mins each side.

This can usually make around 50 kofte.

Really nice served with some chips and a salad.

10-minute chicken fajita tray bake

- 600g chicken breast stir-fry , strips of chicken
  - 40g packet spice mix for fajitas
  - 12 small white corn tortillas
  - 2 green shallots
  - 280g jar Coles Chargrilled Peppers, drained, coarsely chopped
  - 200g tub avocado dip
  - Crème fraîche, to serve
  - Fresh coriander sprigs, to serve
  - Oil
1. Preheat grill on high. Drizzle half of the 1 tbs oil over a baking tray. Place the tray under the grill to heat
  2. While the oil on the tray is heating, place the chicken
  3. Once the oil is hot, arrange the chicken mixture in a single layer on the tray. Drizzle over the remaining 1/2 tbs oil. Return the tray to the grill and cook for 3 minutes.
  4. Meanwhile, wrap the tortillas in foil and place under the grill with the chicken. Chop the shallots.
  5. Add the peppers to the tray with the chicken and toss to combine. Return to the grill for 2 minutes or until the chicken is cooked through.

Serve the chicken grill bake with the warmed tortillas, avocado dip and crème fraîche, sprinkled with the shallot and coriander

Here is our last pictures and recipes of the group, for whom, we started cookery club. A new group, after the half term. This week was mixing spices and flavours, to add to lamb kofta's, satay chicken, beef mince on skewers.

They all took home, and hopefully enjoyed, the fruits of their labour, that they produced in the school's Food Tech room. I have very good feedback, that students and parents, very much enjoyed the classes.

Happy eating everyone!

Regards

Len – School Chef

Wraps & Flat bread

Spotted

Have our children seen the crow's nest on the Island in our playground? Have they come across crow's nests on ships in stories? See how high our resident crow has built hers. She has a commanding view of the surrounding area.

A crow's nest is also a structure in the upper part of the main mast of a ship or a structure that is used as a lookout point.

On ships, this position ensured the widest field of view for lookouts to spot approaching hazards, other ships, or land by using the naked eye or optical devices such as telescopes or binoculars.

According to William Scoresby Jr., the crow's nest was invented in the 19th century by his father, William Scoresby Sr., a whaler and also an Arctic explorer. Crow's nests appear in Egyptian reliefs as early as 1200 BC and on eighth to seventh century BC representations of Phoenician, Etruscan, and Boiotian ships. Theon of Smyrna wrote that by climbing the mast of a ship, one could see land that is invisible to those on deck.

The first recorded appearance of the term was in 1807, used to describe Scoresby Sr.'s barrel crow's nest platform.

Since the crow's nest is a point far away from the ship's center of mass, rotational movement of the ship is amplified and could lead to severe seasickness, even in accustomed sailors. Therefore, being sent to the crow's nest was also considered a punishment

Meadow Song Project and Art

Year 3 Summer Café

We have been looking at the artist Claude Monet. We have made our own landscapes, using the wetlands as a stimulus.

In our café, we sang meadow songs, planted wildflowers and looked at our artwork.

Summer Celebration

The background of the poster features a stylized sun with yellow rays emanating from the top left. Below the sun are rolling green hills decorated with various colorful flowers in shades of red, yellow, blue, and white. A large green star is positioned on the right side of the hills. The overall design is vibrant and festive, with a blue and green border at the top and bottom.
